PRACTICE SUMMARY

One of the most active intellectual property litigators in the country, Mr. Silver's practice includes the representation of global and U.S. companies in a wide range of litigation matters. His litigation practice has emphasized complex Abbreviated New Drug Applications (ANDA) under the Hatch-Waxman Act for generic pharmaceutical companies. On the patent side, Mr. Silver has been involved in U.S. and foreign prosecutions in the mechanical, chemical, pharmaceutical, biomedical and biotechnical disciplines. He is registered to practice before the United States Patent and Trademark Office (USPTO). Mr. Silver has also been involved in numerous trademark opposition and cancellation proceedings before the USPTO and has had extensive experience in interference proceedings in the chemical field. Mr. Silver chairs the Litigation Committee of Caesar Rivise. He is also a member of the Philadelphia Intellectual Property Association, the Philadelphia Bar Association, the French-American Chamber of Commerce and the International Trademark Association.
